

The Google Lime Scholarship for Students with Disabilities $10,000 USD or $5,000 CAD

Access to knowledge is our thing. When it comes to higher education for promising scholars, we don't want anything to stand in the way. That's why Google is proud to support the work of Lime Connect. Google is committed to helping the innovators of the future make the most of their talents by providing scholarships and networking retreats for computer science students with disabilities.

Recipients of the Google Lime Scholarship will each receive a scholarship for the 2012-2013 academic year. Selected students will also be invited to attend the annual Google Scholars' Retreat at the Googleplex in Mountain View, California, in 2012. Scholarships will be awarded based on the strength of candidates' academic background and demonstrated passion for computer science - $10,000USD for those studying in the US and $5,000CAD for those studying in Canada (based on tuition costs).

Google Lime Scholars enjoying the Scholars Retreat at the Googleplex

The Google Lime Scholarship is designed for undergraduate and graduate students with disabilities who are pursuing degrees in computer science, computer engineering or a closely related technical field at a university in the US or Canada (international students in the US or Canada are also eligible). And, one in ten students on campus today has a disability, with 90% of those being invisible - candidates with all disabilities are encouraged to apply.

To learn more and apply: check out our website

Application deadline: midnight EST on Sunday, February 5, 2012

Not a match? Share the word and you never know who could benefit! If you're a student or experienced professional with a disability, register with The Lime Network to learn of all candidate opportunities. We welcome all interested parties as Friends of The Lime Network.

Visit www.google.com/jobs/scholarships to check out additional Google opportunities.

About us:

Lime Connect is a global not for profit leading the way as the premier resource for top talent in the disability space by attracting, preparing and connecting highly accomplished individuals with disabilities for careers with the world's leading corporations. Our goal is to break stereotypes and lead all companies to realize the importance, and value, of employing people with disabilities at every level of education, talent and ability.

Visit www.limeconnect.com to learn more!